

Febiweri: Lov Op Yusef Dis Mont!

Febiweri n. February.

Flowaz sel plenti eena Febiweri sayk a Valentainz Day. Flowers sell well in February because of Valentine's Day.

lov v. love.

Mai onkl oanli lov fi hihn waif. My uncle really loves his wife. See: chek, kay fi, laik. — n. love. Lov noh ga no frayvrit. Love has no favourites.

lov op v.phr. pet (fondle) Enitaih n yu si dehn too, dehn di lov op.

Whenever you see those two, they are fondling each other. See: fingl, hoal...op.

marid v. marry, wed. (Eng. past tense form is infinitive form in Kriol.)

Wai yu noh marid da gyal if yu lov ahn? Why don't you marry that girl if you love her? See: brok ih nek. — adj. married. Ah tel shee fi stap play wid da marid man. I told her to stop having an affair with that married man.

marij n. marriage. Fi dehn marij laas lang kaa dehn lov wan anada bad.

Their marriage has lasted a long time because they love each other deeply. — adj. marriage. Datdeh marij servis mi lang, lang, lang. That marriage service was very long.

los v. lust; feel an intense desire.

Ih noh gud fi los aafa ada pipl waif. It's not good to lust after another man's wife.

— n. lust. Di Baibl seh los da wan a di sebm sin dehn. According to the Bible, lust is one of the seven sins.